

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

August 18, 2005

I send greetings to those observing Life Insurance Awareness Month.

The fiscal stability of our country's citizens contributes to the vitality of our economy and encourages them to achieve the great promise of our Nation. Life insurance companies provide valuable services that help workers and their families meet their financial needs. Through organizations like yours, Americans are better able to make responsible choices and prepare for the future.

I appreciate all those working to achieve financial security for our country's families. Your efforts and commitment help advance the prosperity of America.

Laura and I send our best wishes.
